Minor's Statement of Consent (Texas)

Name: _____

Date of birth: _____

Date: _____

In Texas, a minor can agree to some care without a parent or guardian. Check each reason that is true for you. We can rely on what you write here.

Why I can agree to my own care

☐ I am on active duty in the armed services of the United States.

☐ I am 16 or older. I live apart from my parents or guardian, and I manage my own money.

☐ I want to be checked or treated for a disease that must be reported to the health department, such as some sexually transmitted infections.

☐ I am unmarried and pregnant, and I want care for the pregnancy, other than abortion.

☐ I want to be checked or treated for drug or chemical addiction or dependency, or a problem from drug or chemical use.

☐ I want counseling for suicide prevention, for chemical addiction or dependency, or for sexual, physical or emotional abuse.

Anything else about why I can agree

Texas law lets your clinician tell your parent or guardian about the care you get or need, with or without your consent. Ask us how we decide.
