Referrals

If your child needs physical or mental health care somewhere else, we will tell you why. We will talk with you and tell you in writing. We refer your child only after you agree in writing to that type of care, for each visit or for a course of treatment.

Your child's health information

We share your child's health information with anyone other than you only with your written consent, unless a law allows it. You may see your child's health records and get a copy.

If your child has a primary care physician, we tell them about the care we give, so their records stay complete. If your child has Medicaid, CHIP or private insurance, we contact the physician before we give care.
