One standard drink is about 1 small glass of wine (5 oz), 1 beer (12 oz), or 1 single shot of liquor.

Prescription medications that may be used this way include opiate pain relievers (for example, OxyContin, Vicodin, Percocet, methadone), medications for anxiety or sleeping (for example, Xanax, Ativan, Klonopin), and medications for ADHD (for example, Adderall or Ritalin).

For office use

Any answer other than Never is a positive screen for that substance (McNeely 2016). The TAPS Tool goes on to ask about that substance in the past 3 months (TAPS-2).

Published cut-points for a possible substance use disorder (Gryczynski 2017): Monthly or more often on questions 1 to 3 (tobacco and alcohol), or any use on questions 4 and 5 (drugs, and prescription medications not used as prescribed). They are a reason to assess further, not a diagnosis.
